Department: Computer Science

Name of the Agency involved: TIME INSTITUTE

Number of participants : 94

The webinar is about how to build an effective resume and the tips for the same, do's and don'ts to create an effective resume as follows: Don't over-complicate things, Don't be generic, Include big achievements, Don't use resume templates or tables, Keep it short, Remove irrelevant or outdated experience, Don't lie or over embellish, State your most important points first. Important key points of well written entry level resume are Font and point size, Contact information, Objective, Summary, Education, Experience, Skills. hands-down and the reverse-chronological format are the best resume format because it's very easy to read and skim. Recruiters and hiring managers are familiar with this format, as most people use it. Leave off details such as height, weight, birth date, age, sex, religion, political affiliation, or place of birth. Employers shouldn't make employment decisions based on these factors, and they may resent the fact that you are tempting them to do so. Keep your resume focused on the facts. There are four types of resumes right for the job, they are Chronological Resume, Functional Resume,
